

ReCCI landed in Matera European Capital of Culture 2019

Three days of Training of Trainers took place in Matera, European Capital of Culture 2019, full of presentations, brainstorming, discussions and learning. This was a great opportunity for the partners to evaluate the training modules created within the project result number two. At the same time, the partners' trainers were trained! This particular training tailored for professionals in the cultural and creative industries in order to enhance the resilience, entrepreneurial and digital dimension of their creative work will be field-tested in spring 2023 in Heraklion.

Training Course for Creative and Cultural Industries Professionals

During the Training of Trainers in Matera, all partners tested and shared the training contents and activities providing knowledge, tools and strategies related to 10 key competences that professionals working in the Cultural and Creative Industries (CCIs) need the most to boost their businesses resiliency, sustainability and profitability. In fact, starting from the outcomes of the project Competence Framework, the partnership has structured the training course within:

- the entrepreneurial dimension (based on the EntreComp competences)
- the digital dimension (based on the DigiComp competences)
- the resilience dimension (based on the LifeComp competences)
- the cross-fertilisation dimension (based on both the EntreComp and LifeComp competences)

The international training week in spring 2023 will be a unique opportunity for the participants to learn all about it and for the partners to fine tune the training course.

Check out ReCCI's blog!

Introducing the "News" section on the ReCCI website! Within this page, which serves as our blog, you can find articles tackling interesting and topical issues related to Cultural and Creative Industries; but it is not only that, there are also interviews to take inspiration from such as the one with Bernd Fesel, CEO of the European Creative Business Network and representative of the ICE (winning consortium of KICs on Culture & Creativity): "Is creativity the skill for the future?". What do you think? Is it?
